

The Thames Valley Early Music Forum

President: Jeremy Montagu

The Thames Valley Early Music Forum was formed in October 1988 to promote the playing and singing of early music (mainly pre-1750). The area covered includes Berkshire, Buckinghamshire, Oxfordshire and London but we have members as far away as Cyprus! Our aim is to hold events throughout the Thames Valley region to cover as wide a range of interests as possible. As well as workshops and other large scale events, smaller meetings are sometimes held in members' homes.

Events held in 2006:

Praetorius chorale settings with Peter Syrus
Music for the Annunciation with Andrew Carwood
Renaissance consort day with David Fletcher
Baroque chamber music day with Peter Collier
Ecce Beatam Lucem - 40-part motet by Striggio with Philip Thorby
(jointly with EEMF)
A mass by Pelsetrina in a liturgical setting with Michael Procter
Libera Nos - music by John Sheppard with David Allinson
Settings of Dixit Dominus for voices and instruments with Alan Lumsden
Baroque chamber music day with Victoria Helby
Music from the 1589 Florentine Intermedii with Philip Thorby

Tutors in the last few years have included

David Allinson, Andrew Carwood, Peter Holman, Peter Leech, Alan Lumsden, Michael Procter, Jeffrey Skidmore and Philip Thorby.

Membership is open to both amateurs and professionals: players, singers, dancers and anyone else who is interested in early music. A newsletter is published approximately every month with articles and information about forthcoming events in the region - contributions are always welcome.
